New Ways of Thinking, Leading and Working

In a changing world, how do we adapt? "You need to change your mindset." We frequently hear this advice, often in challenging times of change.

Unfortunately this well-intentioned counsel is misguided. Missing the very essence of the problem. At best just providing half of the solution. We have mindsets, which can all too easily become fixed. Set in our ways.

Instead in an ever-changing world, what we need is a growth Mindleap. Leading into the Future of Work.

Today.
